Buy High Quality Sustainable Ginger from Smallholder Farmers

Ginger (Dried Split/Powder)

Zingiber officinale

This Ginger, cultivated in the mid hill terrains of Nepal. aQysta works for example work with an EU Organic certified female cooperative from Palpa, Nepal. The ginger is a product of sustainable and diverse organic farming practices implemented by the smallholder farmers we work with. The unique combination of ideal climate and soil conditions in this region allows for the production of ginger that is not only of superior quality but also rich in flavor.

Certification

- Ginger available with EU Organic certification as well as conventional

Applications

Ginger has been used in European cuisine for centuries, adding both flavor and health benefits to dishes. Nepali ginger is also appreciated for its sustainability and fair trade practices, making it an ethical ingredient choice for conscious consumers.

Why source from aQysta

Small Farmers. Big Impact

- Sustainably produced, premium high-quality products suitable for international markets
- Fair pricing with direct impact on livelihoods of marginalized communities in Malawi, Nepal and India
- aQysta will oversee production and work on improvements e.g. certification, quality and quantity management

aQysta's Approach

aQysta partners with vulnerable smallholder farmers to promote profitable and climate-resilient farming practices. They connect farmers with premium markets and collaborate with partners to create fair, sustainable, and shorter value chains that offer premium prices for the farmers' produce.
